Date: 21st October 2026

Name of the Company: Codeyoung

Who We Are: Most people are taught to learn. At Code young, we teach people to build. We are a fast-scaling global EdTech company, founded by IIT graduates, impacting 50,000+ learners across 15+ countries. But this is not just about scale. This is about changing how the next generation thinks, solves, and creates. We are building a world where learners don't just consume knowledge- they build, experiment, adapt, and lead. And to build something like this, average won't work. We need people who think bigger, move faster and execute harder

Why People Love Working Here?
You don't come here to just work, you come here to grow fast and make real impact.
At Code young, you will:

- See results in real time
- Own outcomes early
- Work with sharp, driven people
- Be pushed to think bigger and move faster

No waiting. No hand-holding. You create your own opportunities

This Role is Not for Everyone:- Let's be clear. This role is not for people looking for comfort or routine, or "just doing enough". This is for people who:

- Are deeply ambitious
- Are willing to do whatever it takes (ethically) to succeed
- Want to grow 4x faster than the market
- Don't wait for instructions - take charge and figure things out
- Thrive under pressure and enjoy challenges
- Don't settle for average outcomes - push until it works
- Measure success by outcomes, not effort or time

- Don't stop at effort - finish with results

If you are looking for "defined boundaries of effort" - this is not the role for you. If you are looking to push your limits, grow aggressively, and win consistently - keep reading.

The Role: Why It Matters?- You are the first real experience of Code young for our global users.

- One conversation from you can:
- Change how someone sees learning
- Influence a life decision
- Open opportunities across the world

This is the level of impact you'll have- you don't just talk to users, you understand them, guide their decisions, and shape their journey. You build trust, create clarity, and drive action. This isn't just conversations, it's real impact. Not just a job, but a high-impact responsibility.

What You Will Be Doing? - You will operate at the core of our global growth engine. This is where conversations turn into decisions and decisions turn into outcomes.
You are not here to just explain, you are here to influence, guide and to drive outcomes.

- Engage with international users across markets
- Lead sharp, high-impact conversations that move things forward
- Understand needs beyond the surface and guide users to the right outcomes
- Communicate value with clarity, confidence, and conviction
- Build and manage a strong, predictable pipeline
- Follow up with intent - because every interaction matters
- Use CRM tools to track, optimize, and improve performance
- Drive conversions through trust, logic, and influence
